

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

October 10, 2002

S. 3005

Kaloko-Honokohau National Historical Park Addition Act of 2002

As reported by the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources on October 8, 2002

S. 3005 would modify the boundary of the Kaloko-Honokohau National Historical Park in Hawaii to include an additional two acres. Once added to the existing park boundary, the property (which includes a two-story building) could be acquired by the National Park Service (NPS) by donation, purchase, or exchange. The bill would authorize the appropriation of whatever amounts are necessary for this purpose.

Assuming appropriation of the necessary amount, CBO estimates that the NPS would spend about $3 million to implement S. 3005 over the next year or two. Most of this amount would be used to purchase the property added to the park. We estimate that acquiring this property would not significantly increase annual park operating costs. Enacting S. 3005 would not affect revenues or direct spending. This estimate is based on information provided by the NPS and the existing property owner, a Japanese company. Other provisions of S. 3005, which would make technical amendments to various park statutes, would have no significant impact on the federal budget.

S. 3005 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no significant costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Deborah Reis. This estimate was approved by Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.
